City Gets 9.67 Inches In April Rains

Officials Still Out Surveying County Damage

Milam County continued to survey crop damage and swollen area waterways after almost two weeks of rain sent Little River and tributaries well beyond 30-foot flood stage.

It was the wettest April in memory as Cameron and vicinity received 9.67 inches during April compared to 1.59 inches in April 1956.

Total rainfall for the year now stands at 18.77 inches, according to totals at the official weather station, City Hall.

Little River went to a crest of 39 feet by the weekend and officials expect more water to send the mark back up when waters to the north reach Cameron.

Little River Floods Lowlands

Hundreds of Cameronsites surveyed a mile-wide Little River at 77 Bridge that flooded lowlands along the river bottom and drowned a yet undetermined number of cattle near the juncture of the San Gabriel-Little Rivers.

State and national newspapers carried stories of Central Texas' worst flood since 1921. But The Herald was informed that only a few people were forced from their homes along the Little River area bottomlands as reported all over the nation.

County agricultural officials said a complete survey of crop and land damage was still underway. Rains stopped Sunday, but fields in some parts of the county were inaccessible until the middle of the week.

Rockdale Has Six Inches Rain

Rockdale caught about six inches of rain last week that washed through the center of town, damaging homes along Ham Branch Creek.

Wind damage there totaled $125,000 to the H. H. Coffield Airport. Reports said a twin-engine Beechcraft was badly damaged and a small building was damaged.

In Cameron the Little River and other tributaries rushed from their streambeds to slash at nearby farmland and farm-to-market roads and bridges.

County officials were still out studying the damage to several small bridges and county roads. FM Rd 2095 was cut down and an abutment on FM 486 was slashed away, they said.

Heaviest damage was to fences along the bottomlands where heavy waters rushed over them.

Families Forced From Homes

Some families in Williamson County were forced from their homes, officials said.

County officials say that rains now are sufficient to last through June with sub-surface moisture the highest in years.

Cameron itself got 1.59 inches in the past seven days. Rainfall in the county averaged about the same except along the southern area.

Senior Class Play Pleases YHS Crowd

"A loaf of bread, a jug of wine and Doris." And then the fun began.

With a rollicking touch of teenage frivolity, Franklin Moore and 11 other Yoe High School seniors

Tuesday night turned Omar Khuyam's intentionally misquoted phrase into three acts of real watching fun in their interpretation of "Love Troubles Tommy."

Tommy Stevens, played by Moore, turned the YHS Auditorium stage into a scene of high school bedlam in his efforts to angle his way into a prom date with Central High School's loveliest girl, Doris David, played by Barbara Young.

What followed brought roars of approving laughter from some 400 onlookers as Mrs. C. L. Canady's cast piked "heartbreak" upon "suicide" before Tommy finds out a broken date isn't worth a dunk in the river.

It was a difficult chore for Tommy's mom and dad, admirably portrayed by Nita Archer and Johnny Solomon, to keep up with Tommy and his pal, George, played by Grover McCullin, as they did everything but hock the house for a prom tux.

Sister Betty, portrayed by Carol Sanders, and his Grandma (Marye Horstmann) carried their share of the family problems in coping with Tommy's dilemma.

Jeff Burkes' "Einstein," the smartest boy in school, added interesting by-play during Tommy's rush for Doris' attention. Well received too were portrayals by Emory Camp, a Gamma Delta known as Roger Wilson; Evelyn Vybiral as Janice, Betty's friend; Rita Moraw as Clara a prom

Lions Elect New Officers For 1957-58

A new slate of officers for 1957-58 was elected by acclamation Tuesday at a meeting of the Cameron Lions Club.

City Lions also heard Frank Lucke, Cameron Herald staff member, describe development and role of the newspaper.

Jack Prescott is new Lion president with first vice-president, Jimmy Wiggs; second vice-president, Ben Magness; and third vice-president, Richard Williams.

New secretary-treasurer is Tom Boyd, the Rev. Richard Bradshaw tailtwister and Bill Marek, lion-tamer.

President Louis McKee reported that the Lions would co-operate with the city Chamber of Commerce in a dinner May 20 for officials of the state highway department in this district.

Luecke told the club that newspapers have grown to a professional stature after a period of evolution across the world and about eight centuries.

He was introduced by Wiggs.

Chamber Plans Broiler Show, Banquet Saturday

County poultry growers will vie for $122.50 in prizes Saturday during the annual Cameron C of C Broiler Show, according to Ben Magness, Chamber president.

Prizes and certificates will be awarded winners 8 p.m. Saturday at a banquet for an estimated 200 growers and sponsors at Simon-George Hall.

Showtime for the public is 1 p.m. Saturday at the Brod Building, 212 W. Main. Judging will begin at 10 a.m. with E. D. Parnell, Texas A&M, in charge.

Winner Gets $15

The grand champion winner will receive $15 while the reserve champion will get $12.50, Magness said.

Prizes ranging from $2 to $10 will be given the top ten roosters and ten best pullets, he continued. Last five prizes in each class will be $2 while the top prize will be $10 for each first place winner.

Each grower will select his best five chickens from his flock of 50 chickens given to the growers March 1. Officials say all show chickens must be placed in their coops by 9 a.m. Saturday.

The sponsor will get the five show chickens as tokens of the grower's appreciation, Magness said.

Tickets Available

Tickets for the banquet are $1.25. Tickets will be sold until 5 p.m. Friday at the new Chamber office, 111 S. Houston St.

All 200 sponsors and growers are planning to attend the banquet, he continued.

Other prizes include certificates of merit for the best food conversion and highest total weight gained per coop.

Judging will be conducted by officials before the doors are opened to the public at 1 p.m., Magness said. Then studept judging will continue from 1 to 4 p.m.

Grand Jury Indicts

Porifrio San Miguel

The Milam District Grand Jury noon Wednesday indicted Porifrio San Miguel in connection with the slaying of Felix Hernandez on or about March 9.

It was the only indictment returned by the March term panel. They had been called for another session Monday, but were unable to resume hearing because of road conditions.

The jury had heard information concerning transactions between Rep. Reuben Talasek and Bassel Wilson, Cameron businessman. No finding was returned after the hearings.

The panel met four days spread out over a three-week period. They heard 13 witnesses on three different incidents.

Girl Escapes Injury As Winds Lash Screen

Carol Frances Moore, operator of the ticket booth at Seventy-Seven Drive-In Theatre, narrowly escaped possible serious injury last Friday as she ran from the booth only about three minutes before the theatre screen crashed.

Stagnant Water Brings Warning

Standing water following area rains presents a health problem for city and county health officials who ask the cooperation of countians to prevent dangers of contamination and mosquitos.

All standing water is likely to be contaminated by sewage washed in from overflowing septic tanks and surface toilets, according to D. S. Wimberly, county sanitarian.

He urges parents not to allow children to play or wade in stagnant pools. The stagnant water, he said, might harbor typhoid, dysentary or other harmful diseases.

Meanwhile City Public Works Supt. W. D. Bigbee said that the city would spray any standing pools of water with Cameron's fog machine as soon as weather would permit.

He said that city sprays each year with DDT to stifle possible spread of mosquitos and flies from stagnant water. It takes a calm day to get maximum efficiency, he said.

into it.

The incident occurred about 9 p.m. last Friday when high winds and a tornado that failed to hit the ground roared over Cameron demolishing the screen and damaging trees and television aerials throughout the city.

Winds driving directly against the face of the screen forced the entire structure to collapse as the huge posts supporting it were snapped off at ground level and cable guide lines were broken.

This portion of the theatre plant is seemingly a total loss although reports from insurance adjusters as to the cost of the damage had not been learned Wednesday.

Rains Worry, Yet Assist Farmers

Torrential rains have poured down on Milam County for the past 10 days to the consternation of farmers here and throughout Central Texas.

Everyone wishes that the crop saving gully washers would stop. And with good cause — because those rains have gone to the other pole and threatened county crops.

But the damage is slight compared to what would have happened, say, 20 years ago when soil conservation and diversified farming were more a novelty to county farmers.

It is a good time to salute those county farmers who have used foresight to adopt soil conservation practices. They not only are preventing topsoil erosion, but they are saving the runoff moisture in part by maintaining stock ponds throughout Milam.

A bouquet is in order, too, for soil conservation and county agent officials who are preaching "save-the-soil" practices and new crop techniques. They are doing splendid, oft times unsung work that makes heavy rains less a threat to Milam's economy.

They are making nature work for them. All they need now is some sunny, dry weather.

THE LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER

Sage Calls For Bean That Grows Inside Modern Cellophane Bag

By J. A.

The Little River Philosopher has an unusual idea this week, probably on the impractical side.—Ed.

Dear editor: Statistics don't mean much to me, I never have found it necessary to wait on Washington's figures on whether or not the cost of living has gone up to find out for myself, all I have to do is buy something and I know right off, but the other night I was reading in a newspaper which I'd been saving up for a week — I know it's discourteous to wait that long to read a paper that the people who produce it worked like mad to get out in 24 hours, but if you haven't heard some news, it is still news, even if it's seven days old — at any rate, about this article I was reading:

According to it, Washington has discovered that in the last 10 years food prices have increased 16 per cent in the store, while prices received by farmers for the food dropped 14 per cent.

In other words, farmers have been getting less for raising it, while retailers have been getting more for selling it, and this got me to thinking.

Now there's no use in blaming the grocery stores, they aren't making any more profit now than they did 10 years ago. The fault lies with the farmer. His trouble is that he doesn't know how to grow beans for example in a cellophane bag. The ordinary farmer growing beans, he just grows them in the same old-fashioned way and delivers them to market, rattling around in the back of a truck or sewed up in a tow sack, and then's when things begin happening to the price, and by the time they get to the grocery shelf, the beans have shot up considerably in cost.

It's the cellophane bag that does it, and if farmers are smart they will get the agricultural colleges to working on a bean that can come up and mature inside a bag ready to stamp with the current retail price. Instead of working on varieties of beans that grow faster, are more drought-resistant, storm-proof, and uniform, what the college experts ought to be doing is perfecting varieties that will mature inside 25-cent bags, 50-cent bags, $1.25-bags, and on up, all ready to put on a grocery shelf. The same thing is true of radishes, carrots, roasting ears, potatoes, tomatoes, etc.

The cost of getting a bean inside a cellophane bag is what's holding the farmer back.

Your faithfully,
J. A.

Insurance Board Regrouping Renews Debate In Austin

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN — Reorganization of the Insurance Commission is a supercharged issue again.

More than a month ago the Senate passed a bill that would sweep out present commissioners and allow the governor to name a new board. But the House State Affairs Committee shunted it off to an unfriendly subcommittee.

Some thought it would die there. Then a verbal battle broke out between John Osorio, chairman of the commission, and Gov. Price Daniel.

Osorio, who was appointed by former Gov. Allan Shivers, will lose his job if Governor Daniel's reorganization plan goes through.

In answer to questions from Rep. Jerry Sadler, Osorio said that Daniel had offered to help him find another job if he would support reorganization. Osorio replied that he felt such a "deal" would violate his oath of office.

Osorio also said, in answer to Sadler's questions, that the governor's confirmation by the Senate until after the Commission had closed down the ICT Insurance Co.

Governor Daniel called the charges false. He said he had expected personal attacks to result from his efforts for reform. Then he declared he would fight "even harder for cleanup and reorganization."

In reply to the governor's accusations and $7,500-a-year salaries offered to take a lie detector test, if Daniel would.

House committee members, meanwhile, took new looks at the reorganization bill, admitted to being in a tight spot. Sentiment is reportedly very evenly divided.

ANNUAL SESSIONS FAVORED
With time running out on this session, the prospect of annual sessions in the future is gaining favor.

Senate gave preliminary approval to a measure for annual sessions and $7,500-a-year salaries for legislators. House passed a similar version with only $4,800 a year pay.

Sessions on odd-numbered years would be as now. On even-numbered years a short budget appropriation session would be held.

Measure is a constitutional amendment which would require approval of the voters in November, 1958.

SLUM BILL MOVES

Texas cities would be able to get federal aid for cleaning up blighted areas under a bill given final House passage.

Senate State Affairs Committee blackballed the same bill 9 to 8. But supporters gained an unusual victory when the Senate voted 23-6 to accept the report of the committee minority.

Opponents attacked as unconstitutional the provision allowing a city to condemn property for sale to private parties. Backers said the bill had safeguards to prevent abuse of condemnation powers.

SEGREGATION UP TO SENATE
Enactment of 8 bills designed to preserve school segregation is in the hands of the Senate.

Sponsors predicted an easy majority in the upper house. However, two South Texans whose constituencies are already integrated Measures already given House approval would (1) allow school boards to assign pupils to schools, (2) exempt children from compulsory attendance at integrated promised opposition. Sen. Abraham Kazen Jr. of Laredo and Sen. Henry B. Gonzales of San Antonio indicated they might try to walk the bills to death in an end-of-session filibuster.

schools, (3) authorize state to pay tuition for pupils to segregated non-sectarian schools where no segregated public school is available, (4) authorize school boards to designate schools as "White," "Negro" or "integrated," (5) direct the attorney general to defend anti-segregation suits against the state, (6) require registration of persons paid to work for integration, (7) prohibit public employment of NAACP members and (8) ban buture integration without a local school district vote.

TEACHER MONEY SOUGHT

Two bills aimed at gaining funds for teacher pay raises probably will be debated this week. Each has gained committee approval in both houses.

One would double tuition at state colleges for an estimated $10,000,000 more in revenue. Another would make one per cent of the permanent school fund available for current spending. It would bring in $7,000,000 to $11,000,000.

Added to a predicted $27,000,000 surplus in the general fund, passage of the two bills would bring to about $47,000,000 the amount available for teacher raises.

Sermon Of The Week

True Faith Finds Perfect Reward

By The Rev. Alfred Kallus
Assistant Pastor
St. Monica's Catholic Church

We hear much in this day and age about the virtue of Faith. We speak of people either having it or needing it. Faith is most commonly understood simply as "believing." This believing is "to believe that God exists and is a rewarder to those who seek Him." (Heb. 11:6)

While many people believe that God actually exists as a Supreme Being, they do not seek Him as a Rewarder. In other words, this seeking of God as a Rewarder and believing in Him as a Rewarder is known as the virtue of Hope. It is this lack of Hope that is hurting the world today. It is our great sin, even more than the lack of Faith.

When men do not seek God as their Rewarder, they seek someone or something else as the rewarder. Thus, many are plunged into one form of vice or another as they see as a reward only the things of this earth.

From vice pour forth countless crimes, injustices and wars. The man with true Faith will not merely believe in the existence of God, but will seek Him as his Rewarder as well.

To you... the head of the Family:

If you're tired of KP, it's easy to do away with that chore forever... with an automatic electric dishwasher. No more time need be wasted on handwashing the dishes. Today's electric dishwasher does it all for you... except put them in and take them out.

Automatic ELECTRIC Dishwasher

* Dishes and silver, pots and pans are washed in steaming hot water and they dry sparkling clean. See the dishwashers at dealers' stores.

Buddy Kilowatt says: "Hey, fellas! You won't get stuck with KP at home... if you get your wife an automatic electric dishwasher. Easy terms at your appliance dealer's."

Texas Power & Light Company

Let us not forget to visit HIM every Sunday in HIS HOUSE!

Today's Great Sin . . .

"When men do not seek God as their Rewarder, they seek someone or something else as the rewarder. Thus many are plunged into one form of vice or another as they see as a reward only the things of this earth."

"From vice pour countless crimes, injustices and wars. The man with true Faith will not merely believe in the existence of God, but will seek Him as his Rewarder as well."

A Tribute -- To Our Hospitals!

Someone once said that all well people should visit a hospital occasionally to see how fortunate they are! When a friend or loved one is being tenderly cared for in one of our hospitals, then we understand the great importance of these institutions. Staffed with doctors, nurses, internes and all manner of life saving equipment, the hospital is mercy headquarters for all who are suffering. We never cease to wonder at the modern miracles performed in our hospitals. Their works go largely unheralded. But their eagerness to bind up wounds and make men whole again goes on forever. What would we do without these havens of healing?

Americans Eat Well, But Not Always Right Way, Survey Says

COLLEGE STATION — Most Americans get enough or too much food, but not always the right kind. Three of every four homemakers have only a scanty knowledge of nutrition, a recent study in New York State shows.

The other fourth of the homemakers surveyed had only a "fair" knowledge of nutrition as related to feeding their families. makers surveyed had only a "fair" knowledge of nutrition as related to feeding their families.

Surveys are now being conducted in 12 sample Texas counties which will reveal some of the eating habits and meal planning techniques used by Texas home-

Women want help on planning meals that their families will enjoy. They also want the satisfaction of knowing that family meals are properly balanced and provide the nutrients needed for good health.

ROCKDALE — To give Aluminun Company of America employees a more complete understanding of their company, Rockdale Works began a series of annual report meeting this week, according to Works Manager R. R. Sugg.

The program includes a 32-minute sound color film, "Highlights of 1956," which covers Alcoa's major activities during the past year, and some 50 color slides made at the installation here.

The film features interviews with some of the men who knew and worked with the late Charles Martin Hall, the inventor who 70 years ago discovered a practical

Weeds Need Cutting, But Aid Wildlife After Long Drouth

AUSTIN — The blankets of weeds rippling in the gentle breezes over most of Texas, favored by recent substantial rainfall, are giving lawn enthusiasts, gardeners and farmers a hard time.

But the growths are helping along with the wildlife comeback, according to the assistant director of Wildlife Restoration, Al Springs, Game and Fish Commission.

He said the weed growth pre-sages widespread assistance to practically every form of wildlife.

The assistant director said deer thrive on many of the weeds, especially the tender kinds, until more substantial food is available. He added that the weeds growth likewise provides food and cover for bird life.

Enthusiast Prides Group Of 3 Pedigree Boxers

By Frank Loeck

(The Herald introduces the second of a series on hobbies enjoyed by Camerons in presenting today's hobby feature on Earl Curtis and his growing collection of blooded Boxers. Watch for this new Herald presentation each week. And drop us a card if you know of someone here who maintains an avocation of interest to all Herald readers.—Ed.)

If you want to see the glow of pride warm the countenance of affable Earl Curtis, ask him how Tiny and Rock are getting along. You'll be asking about Earl's prize Boxer duo that rate first-line treatment at the Curtis household, 1503 N. Cleveland.

Actually, Tiny is only a nickname for the 18-month-old female Boxer that has won three first prize ribbons and trophy and a second ribbon in four recent showings. Her pedigree name is Wiley Faze Forget-Me-Not.

Rock Has Pedigree Name
Not to be outdone, 3-year-old Rock holds the distinguished title of Sanbar-Rock. Curtis has not shown him, but rates the husky fellow right along par with his bethrothed kennel-mate.

A recent addition to Druggist Earl's Boxer clan is "Tuffy," a six-week-old male who, says Curtis, has an equally distinguished moniker he has yet to report.

Tiny's prize-gathering ability comes as no surprise to Curtis. Her father, Champion Bang-Away of Sirrah Crest, owned by a doctor in Santa Anna, Calif., has retired on his laurels after setting dogdom's all-time scoring record in 1952. The handsome animal won 61 Best in Show trophies to outshine all other show dogs, regardless of breed, in canine history.

Earl holds ribbons Tiny garnered at kennel club showings in Minneapolis, Omaha, Texarkana and Longview, including best puppy awards and first in all-breed competition.

Though Earl takes great delight in displaying Tiny's ribbons he can't help but dream of the he might chip in on earnings comparable to those brought in by Tiny's half-brother, Champion Barrage of Quality Hill.

Brings In $300 Per Week
Old Barrage, shown by a couple from Washington, D. C., topped the field in nation-wide showings, then retired to his kennel to earn a lucrative $300-a-week average in stud fees for his owners.

"I don't think my present dogs will score as well in showings or for my pocketbook, but some of their offspring just might clip a few of those records," Curtis said.

Both of his dogs' champion antecedents bore flashy white markings popular today in Boxer fancier circles. Tiny and Rock are handsome brown Boxers with the usual dark muzzles.

"All of my dogs have pedigrees traceable to imported Champions from Germany where the Boxer breed was developed more than 50 years ago," he pointed out. "They go back to the days of international Champion Lastic von Dom, Rock's great-grandfather about four times removed."

Takes Lots of Work
You no doubt can understand Earl's evident pride in his Boxers. But you can't imagine the painstaking study and care required to keep showdogs and Boxers in particular ready for competition.

Tiny, for example, has faced exacting judges who check Boxer entries from the tip of their Bulldog-like muzzles to the end of their clipped tails. They almost use calipers, says Earl, to check the angle of the animals' backs, and legs, pointing of the feet and arch of the skull and neck.

While explaining the nomenclature, Earl sees to it that Tiny obliges to show you the correct stance and gait prescribed in show-Boxers. And there is little doubt of her champion ancestry when you see the graceful animal strike her show pose. Rock does well at it too, though he has not passed under the scrutiny of judging.

"If Tiny had a little larger head," Curtis said, "she would be a champion by now. But the proportion isn't quite right."

Five Wins Make Champion
It takes five big wins under different judges to get the champion title, he said. After that, the champion adds depth to his primary laurels with additional wins before he has the stud-fee stature of Barrage of Quality Hill.

But no matter what his dogs do, Earl has a wonderful time keeping them from mixing it up with the neighborhood cats. He has built a fence around separate areas for his two grown Boxers, more to keep cats out than the dogs in.

Ask him to tell about the mixer Rock, two cats and Earl had one evening. The story more than describes the playful attitude of his Boxers.

And it really shows the whimsical wonder of having Boxers and loving them like Earl does.

13 Army Careers Open To Women, Recruiter Says

Qualified young women may enlist now for one of 13 Army technical schools and receive a guarantee of training in their chosen field, it was announced today by Sfc. Leo A. Dermody, Army recruiter.

Technical training courses available during the next four months include machine accounting, stenography, finance procedures, dental laboratory, X-ray specialist, medical specialist, medical laboratory specialist, teletype operations, cryptography, and clerical procedures and typing.

To qualify for enlistment in the WAC, with a guarantee of training in a course of the applicant's choice, a young woman must be single, age 18 to 34, must be a high school graduate, and must be mentally, physically, and morally qualified.

"Specialized training in any of these courses prepares a young woman for her chosen career field either in military or civilian life," Sfc. Dermody said.

In addition to training, the members of the Women's Army Corps receive the same pay, allowances, benefits and travel opportunities as the male soldiers of equal grade.

Complete information on enlistment in the Army school program may be obtained at the U. S. Army Recruiting Station, 102 North Main St. in Temple.

Farmers Use Heavy Moisture To Sod Waterways For Terrace

Farmers cooperating with the Taylor Soil Conservation District have taken advantage of the good moisture conditions this spring to sod waterways for terrace outlet protection.

Cooperators in the Rockdale work unit area who have soded waterways recently are L. B. Ashley, Rockdale; Edward and Wilbert Weise, Thorndale three waterways; Edwin Lescher, Thorndale one waterway; Mrs. Louis Peters, Sr., Taylor three waterways and E. M. Oliver and William Caesar in the Hare community one partnership waterway.

After a good cover of grass has become established in these waterways they will serve as areas for emptying terrace run-off water without danger of erosion.

Two hundred pounds of 10-20-10 fertilizer per acre was also applied to promote rapid growth and spread of the grass. Good soded pastures provide excellent erosion control and slow down and reduce water run-off.

Robert Harwood who lives in Austin is having 30 acres of cropland leveled for irrigation on his farm located three miles east of Gause. Gravity row irrigation will be used and the water will be furnished by a well that he had drilled last spring.

Mr. Harwood practiced some row irrigation on about 30 acres of cotton last year.

20 Join In Co-op
Twenty additional landowners with a total of 3,733 acres of land became cooperators with the Taylor Soil Conservation District during the month of March. Four of these landowners with five farms are located in the Rockdale work unit areas follows: Gus Johnson two farms and D. T. Galbreath, Rockdale; Edwin Lescher and Edward Weise Thorndale.

All of these cooperators were assisted in planning the soil and water conservation programs for their farms by Soil Conservation Service technicians assisting the Taylor Soil Conservation District.

Milam County's FARM SCENE

County Agent Reports

Rain Hit Oats Hard In County Bottomland

The oat crop this week is at a most critical stage, according to J. D. Moore, county agent. Many acres of good oats in the bottomland will be lost except for some salvage value by grazing with livestock. Cutting of upland oats for hay will be delayed due to excess moisture. Oats for best hay should be cut when in the early dough stage.

When oats approach the ripening stage, the stems get tough and do not make as good hay as when cut earlier. With good underground moisture, oats can be removed from fields and sudan or hegari-planted for a summer crop.

Profits Go Up When Labor Cost Minimized: A&M

COLLEGE STATION — Plan for bigger farm profits by avoiding unnecessary labor costs, advises A&M Extension Farm Management Specialist C. H. Bates. Today's record-high farm wage rates are shifting into the spotlight such labor-saving devices as the rotary hoe weeder.

Bates says the rotary hoe is effective under proper conditions for eliminating young grass and weed seedlings in row crops. The machine greatly reduces expensive hand-hoeing labor and gets crops started faster than those competing with weeds for soil moisture and nutrients.

Time and tractor fuel can also be conserved by making the first cultivation at high speeds.

The specialist warns farmers to prepare rotary hoes for immediate use. Adequate top moisture in most areas of the state now indicate a high weed infestation hazard.

Farmers not owning machines are urged to consider renting them if their acreage and type of farming operation will justify it.

Your county agent or farm equipment dealer can supply additional information concerning possible savings from the rotary hoe and other labor saving devices adaptable to your area. Plan on visiting them soon, advises Bates.

Milam county farmers were fortunate not to have all their cotton planted this week since much of the cotton will have to be replanted. Due to recent dry years, farmers have concluded that cotton should not be planted to a thick stand. Many had indicated they planned to plant a thinner stand this year.

With good moisture conditions, cotton plants will make excessive growth this year. In place of the knee high stalk of previous years, we will have waist high cotton this year. When underground moisture is available, cotton plants are more likely to make secondary growth.

This type of plant growth is conducive to high cotton insect population. Then too, much more grass and weeds will occur this year, thereby making it necessary for more cultivations with the rotary hoe and other equipment to rid the crop of grass and weeds.

Good Stands Recommended

These operations stand a chance to reduce stands of cotton. Farmers are encouraged to plant a good stand of cotton.

The hog, long known as the "mortgage lifter," will hold the spot light at Texas A&M College on May 6-7 when breeders, commercial producers, packers, buyers and others interested in the Texas swine industry meet for their sixth annual short course.

Speakers will aim at emphasizing a meat type hog program, selecting breeding animals, marketing and latest developments in swine feeding and management.

Animal Shots Today

Vaccination for dogs and cats in Buckholts is scheduled from 1 to 4 p.m. today at the Agriculture Bldg. The annual service will be administered by a licensed veterinarian and is sponsored by the Buckholts FFA chapter.

Swine Course Set

Texans interested in swine production can pick-up valuable information by attending the annual Swine Short Course at Texas A&M College May 6-7. Leaders of the swine industry or both the state and national levels will appear on the program.

Little River Hits

Highest Flood Stage Since Record 1921

County Agent J. D. Moore Monday said the Little River reached a higher flood stage last week than recorded since 1921.

It was too early at report time to determine extent of damage to small grain, but a number of acres of good oats were flooded in bottomland," Moore said.

He said all fields were too wet for any kind of work.

Also in the bottomland corn and maize would probably have to be replanted while the excess moisture will delay curing oats and clover for hay.

Bottomland cotton will also have to be replanted, he said. Farmers were fortunate not to have all their cotton planted.

Livestock conditions remain good, he continued. Stockmen were alerted in time to get cattle out of flooded areas.

Though complete information had not been tabulated, he said, truck crop damage was expected to be light.

EROSION HITS OPENLAND

Rains Take Heavy Toll Where Soil Not Covered

Heavy soil losses resulted from the rains of last week. Many fields that were smooth are now badly gullied. On other fields sheet erosion took much good top soil down stream.

The difference being a good oil and water conservation program applied on one and not on the other.

Here are some of the statements made by cooperators in the Central Texas Soil Conservation District, as technicians of the Soil Conservation Service at Temple made field inspections to determine the recent flood damage and the results of a sound conservation program on the land.

"The conservation program on my farm worked perfectly during the flood", says A. W. Reese at New Colony. "I am mighty glad I have this program on my farm".

"I would not think of doing without a good conservation program on my farm", says W. W. Eldredge at Red Ranger. "Not much flood damage where I had a good cover of Hubam clover on cropland and grass on pasture land."

"I wouldn't have anything left after these heavy rains if my land was not protected with a conservation program", states J. J. Zabick at Red Ranger.

J. L. Epperson at Oenaville says, "all of my land I have checked over since the flood is in pretty good shape. A good conservation program has kept it that way".

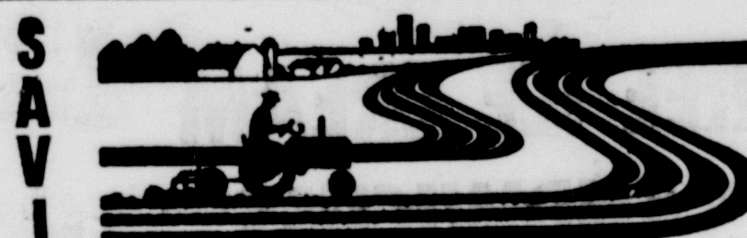

W. T. Smith a Oenaville who has operated the farm where he lives for 44 years states, "My conservation stood the test and the land is in good shape after the big rains. Land with no conservation on it around here has lost an awful lot of soil. This is my third year of conservation farming. I wouldn't think of going back to the way I farmed this place for 41 years."

Science Aids Feeding

Combinations of stilbestrol and antibiotics in yearling steer rations gave higher, more economical gains and heavier carcasses on extended feeding trials than either stilbestrol or antibiotics alone report Texas Agricultural Experiment Station animal husbandmen.

Men were drivers in 89.7 per cent of fatal accidents in U.S. highways in 1956.

SAVING YOUR SOIL

Farmers built 87,430 farm ponds in 1956, more than in any previous year, the U. S. Department of Agriculture announced.

Previous high year was 1954 when farmers built 86,421 farm ponds. During the past six years the USDA's Soil Conservation Service has given technical assistance to farmers in building 425,521 farm ponds.

In all, farmers have built 803,000 farm ponds with SCS technical help. The ponds average from 1 to 2 acres each.

Most were built as part of a basic conservation plan farmers develop for their entire farm in cooperation with the nation's 2,726 soil conservation district, and many pond builders received cost-sharing assistance through the Department's Agricultural Conservation Program. Ponds supply water for livestock, fire protection small-scale irrigation, for fish management, improvement of wildlife habitat, and for recreation.

Ponds Popular

Farm ponds have been most popular in the southeastern, north-eastern and midwestern states, according to SCS Administrator Donald A. Williams. Farmers in Kentucky and Mississippi, for example, have built 64,318 and 56,187 farm ponds, respectively. Farmers have built 16,256 ponds in Iowa, 11,958 in Nebraska, and 3,541 in New York.

"This indicates the interest farmers have in water storage, one of the measures that will be given added stimulus by the Conservation Reserve of the Soil Bank," Williams said.

The Conservation Reserve, open to sign-up by farmers this year until April 15, is designed to encourage farmers and ranchers to shift land out of cultivated crops and into grass, trees and wildlife cover, as well as water storage.

Another measure of the interest in the objectives of the Conservation Reserve is the fact that farmers and ranchers in soil conservation district have converted more than 4,600,000 acres of their poorer cropland to grass and trees in the past three years as part of their conservation plans.

Millions of Trees Placed

In making land-use shifts, farmers in soil conservation districts planted trees on 367,130 acres during the past year, bringing the total to nearly 4 million acres planted to trees. Of this number about 900,000 acres were planted during the past 3 years. Tree planting in districts in 1956 was more than 14 percent higher than in 1955. Much of the tree planting stock came from nurseries operated by State forestry departments.

Farmers in Georgia's soil conservation district led the nation by planting more than 89,000 acres to trees last year.

Farmers and ranchers in districts did 8,250,000 acres of pasture planting and more than 1,284,000 acres of range seeding in the last three years. Plantings and other practices recommended by SCS and state fish and game departments were established to improve wildlife food and cover on more than 411,000 acres last year, bringing the total for such work to nearly three and a half million acres.

TP&L Spends 16 Millions In '56 To Meet Texas Power Demands

To meet increasing demands for electric service in North, Central and East Texas, Texas Power & Light Company in 1956 spent $15,997,088 on new and enlarged facilities.

This continued expansion of the company is reflected in its annual report to the stockholders issued in April.

Construction of the 125,000-kilowatt Stryker Creek Steam Electric Station was started and was 20 per cent complete at the year's end. Equipment was ordered for the addition of a 200,000 kilowatt generating unit to the company's Lake Creek plant for service in 1959.

Construction of the new Stryker Creek plant and enlargement of the Lake Creek plant will bring the company's total generating and purchased capability to more than one million kilowatts in 1969.

The report cites a 15 per cent increase in operating revenue, a 15 per cent increase in operating expense and a 10.6 per cent increase in net income over 1955.

This added net income helps to service the large added investments in the company's facilities. The company has invested $103,639,000 in new and improved facilities during the last five years.

At the end of 1956, the company was serving 329,857 customers, or 4,513 more than were served at the corresponding date of 1955. The annual sales of kilowatt-hours per residential customer and 1,269 per commercial customer.

The report names two national industry awards received in 1956, the George A. Hughes Award in recognition of outstanding performance in the promotion of electric range sales, and the Ebasco Safety Award for outstanding achievement in preventing injuries to employees.

Cameronite's Husband Recognized For 25-Years Career With Shell

M. C. Graham, son-in-law of Dr. David Smith, Cameron veterinarian, has been cited for his 25th year with Shell Oil Co. in a feature article in the company magazine.

His wife, the former Maidell Smith, and he are the parents of two boys, Dana, 8, and Richard, 15.

Graham started with Shell as an instrument helper in El Campo early in 1930. He has spent his entire Shell career with field parties operating the various types of oil exploration equipment, the article said.

Denson Lists New 'Hot' Check Amendment

A amendment to the Texas "hot check" law that makes employers liable for paying their employees with checks that "bounce" has been signed into law by Gov. Price Daniel, Joe C. Denson, Cameron Merchants Association, was informed by the Retail Merchants Association of Texas, Austin.

The new amendment closes a loophole in the "hot check" law. "Until this amendment was signed, a retail business or any other place of business that accepted worthless checks presented in good faith by workers had practically no legal recourse to recover its loss," Denson said.

"Now under the new amendment employers who give checks that prove to be 'hot' are subject to criminal prosecution and may be fined up to $2,000 and sent to jail for 30 days if the amount involved is less than $50.

If the amount of the worthless check is more than $50, then the penalty is from two to ten years in prison and a fine up to $10,000."

Denson said there were several hundred cases in Texas last year where employers paid off their workers with worthless checks causing the places that cashed these checks to lose many thousands of dollars.

Prosecution of these cases under the Texas "hot check" law was difficult because provisions did not cover checks given as wages or salaries for services.

Denson said the new amendment was endorsed and supported by the members of the Retail Merchants Association of Texas.

The veteran oil field explorer has worked in the West Texas and New Mexico area since being assigned to the Midland area as field manager in 1948. He became party supervisor in 1949.

The magazine quotes Graham's recollecting the days when oil exploration methods were in their trail stages.

The article said "he remembers wading through the swamps of Louisiana in muck so soft that crewmen shoved two by six planks several feet in the ground to set their instruments on to take a reading."

He recalled more modern times, however, when he told the Shell writer that "he got a lot of satisfaction out of his last gravity meter assignment. We used a helicopter to explore swamps like those I waded through in the early days."

Graham attended Edinburg Junior College and Texas A&I College.

Dr. Joe Ray Parker Heads Posture Week In Milam Area

Appointment of Dr. Joe Ray Parker, Cameron, as city-county County Posture Week chairman for this area was announced this week.

His appointment was made by Dr. John E. Williams of Waco, regional chairman for this area.

He is one of several hundred chairmen who have been named to direct Posture Week activities, May 1-7, in nearly 300 Texas cities and towns.

This will make the seventh straight year that the Texas State Chiropractic Association has sponsored the observance of Posture Week in Texas.

The purpose of Correct Posture Week, the sponsors said, was to stress to the public the importance of good posture and good health and the relationship of the spine to good posture.

A survey recently completed shows that at least 75 per cent of the people have imperfect distribution of weight between the right and left sides, the regional chairman said.

Bad driving conditions prevailed in less than 15 per cent of the fatal highway accidents in the U.S. in 1956.

City Merchants Group Joins In Improvement Drive

The Cameron Merchants Association is taking part in a self-improvement program conducted this week by the 1,900 member offices of the Associated Credit Bureaus of America, Inc.

Over 80,000 credit reports are exchanged between member offices of the Association each week.

Every out-of-town credit report received this week by the Cameron Merchants Association will be constructively analyzed by Joe Denson, manager.

NTC Graduates Petty From Recruit Class

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (FHTNC) - McKinley Petty, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Petty of Route 2, Cameron, apprentice petty officer first class, graduated April 13, from Recruit Training at the Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif.

Apprentice petty officers are chosen from the ranks of the seaman recruits to assist Company

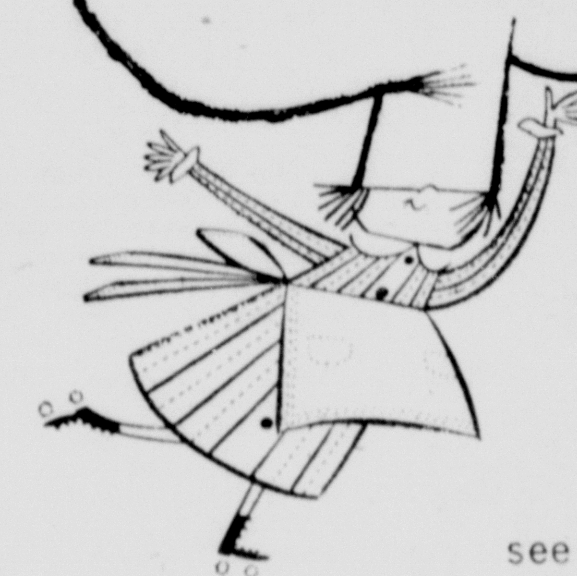

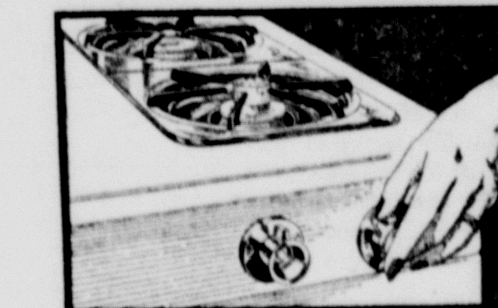

Commanders. The selection is based on individual aptitude and leadership qualities.

A total of 40,000 Americans were killed in 1956 traffic accidents.

In 1956, there were 2,368,000 Americans injured in traffic accidents.

Participation in this program, Denson said, "The purpose of this program is to improve service to credit granters. Through this program, families will be able to open charge accounts more easily."

Lone Star Again Nation's Fastest Growing Brand

Once again—1956 sales records show that the Lone Star Brewery's superior quality beer—the fine, light beer brewed in the modern, beautiful San Antonio Brewery since 1941—is leading the nation in rate of growth! Lone Star has led in percentage increases year after year since its first year—1940. According to exact yearly sales figures, it has grown faster than any other regional brand, in spite of the fact that other brands were established before Lone Star came into being in 1940. Lone Star has established another record by outselling nationally-distributed brands—in Texas.

Lone Star's phenomenal growth in 17 years of sales of 234.2%—from 1940 through 1956, is a record the Brewery justly prides itself on as a great accomplishment.

Lone Star's 1956 record alone is equally phenomenal—and proof of the tremendous public acceptance of this fine beer. In 1956, sales of Lone Star Beer reached a new all-time high of 749,460 barrels. This marked an increase of almost 25,000 barrels for the year—and increased Lone Star's share of the market to the point where nearly one-fifth of all beer sold in Texas during 1956 was Lone Star Beer.

Lone Star Beer continually is an especially fine example of the growth of the Lone Star Beer Company. In 1956, production of Lone Star Beer was increased by 3.34%—while the national average for beer was only 1.5%. Lone Star's sales increased by 3.34%—while the national average for beer was only 1.5%.

This equipment further protects the wonderful reputation of Lone Star for its exceptional quality. Since the Brewery is now equipped not only with the latest techniques in electronic quality controls, but also maintains one of the nation's most complete quality-control laboratories, these safeguards insure a consumer that every ounce of Lone Star Beer he buys is the same—always a fine, fine beer.

Safeway Opens New Store Here

The new Safeway Store, 605 W. Fourth St., is continuing its grand opening today, according to S. D. Ripley, store manager.

Ripley said the 120 by 80-foot structure is surrounded by 75 parking spaces. Three-quarters of the building space is in the sales area.

Store Air Conditioned

A four-year veteran with Safeway in Cameron, Ripley pointed out that the fire-proof store is air-conditioned and offers a variety of colored scheme of pastel colors within the cement block and steel building.

He was quick to point out that the new store has a self-service meat department with attendants to cut special orders.

All produce is refrigerated, he said, except for onions and potatoes.

Other coolers and freezers include walk-in types for meat storage and a specially cooled pre-packing room where meats are prepared for the self-service counter.

Overhead the building has a sprinkler system as part of the fire-proof design. Also included is air-conditioning throughout the store.

Ripley said that the store has an alphabetized system of departmentalization for shopping.

The Light Crust Doughboys, a western band, will appear at Safeway tomorrow afternoon from 3-6 p.m., Ripley pointed out.

He said he anticipates a large crowd for the weekend opening.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Vinton and Mrs. Hoffman went to Austin Friday to visit Mr. Hoffman who was in Breckenridge Hospital suffering with a head injury. He hopes to be home soon.
